Adding the following to the end of section 4970. Prohibited Uses xvii. The rendering impervious of greater than fifteen percent (15%) or two thousand five hundred (2,500) square feet of any lot or parcel, whichever is greater, unless a system of storm water management and artificial recharge of precipitation is developed which is designed to prevent untreated discharges to wetland and surface water; preserve hydrologic conditions that closely resemble pre-development conditions; reduce or prevent flooding by managing peak discharges and volumes of runoff; minimize erosion and sedimentation; not result in significant degradation of groundwater; reduce suspended solids and other pollutants to improve water quality and provide increased protection of sensitive natural resources.

These standards may be met using the following or similar best management practices:

1. For lots or parcels occupied, or proposed to be occupied, by single or two family residences recharge shall be attained through site design that incorporates natural drainage patterns and vegetation in order to reasonably maintain pre-construction stormwater patterns and water quality to the extent practicable. Stormwater runoff from rooftops, driveways and other impervious surfaces shall be routed over lawn areas via sheet flow for no less than eight feet before discharging to a wetland, surface water, or impervious surface that lead to a street drain system. Dry Well leaching pits can be used in lieu of eight feet of lawn for rooftop runoff. The site design must direct only the added impervious surface runoff. No additional site design is needed, if the street drain system has water quality and recharge installed at the outfall.

2. For lots or parcels occupied, or proposed to be occupied by other uses, a Stormwater Management Permit Application shall be filed per Planning Board Rules and Regulations to insure that a system of storm water management and artificial recharge of precipitation is developed.

Deleting subparagraph in Section 4980 - Uses and Activities Requiring A Special Permit, which now reads:

iii. any use that will render impervious any lot or parcel more than 30%. A system for groundwater recharge must be provided which does not degrade groundwater quality. For non-residential uses, recharge shall be by storm water infiltration basins, or similar system covered with natural vegetation, and dry wells shall be used only where other methods are infeasible. For all non-residential uses, all such basins and oil, grease, and sediment traps to facilitate removal of contamination shall precede wells. The owner shall permanently maintain any and all recharge areas in full working order.
